Repudiating the Workingmen's BY TELEGRAPH

Repudiating the Workingmen's Wages.

The Republican party does not pretend to have the financial smartness requisite to pay immediately the debt of 2,500 millions fastened upon the backs of the people by the Democratic war of secession, nor to change it from a burden to a blessing. They propose to devote their statesminehip to the adjustment of its unavoidable burden, so as to lighten it as much as possible, and at the same time to see that the party which brought this load upon their necks shall not sagain have the power to ruin the country.

So vast a Democratic debt can not be paid in a month, nor in a year. Unless

PUEROAY MOUNTING, AUGUST 11, 1868

So vast a Democratic debt can not be paid in a month, nor in a year, Unless we heap on taxation to an extent that would stop the production, the pay-ment must extend through many years. To reduce the present burden, so as to relieve production, and thus continu-ally to increase our capacity to pay, while we gradually reduce the debt, is the only sincere, honest and practicathe only sincere, honest and practicable policy.

Congress passed a bill authorizing the Issue of bonds at 4 per cent, interest, running forty years, payable specifically in gold, and offering the holders of the 5 20s the chance to exchange them for these. The 5 20s arc 6 per cent, bonds, the interest specifically payable in gold. And at the time of their issue it was agreed by all departments of the Government that the principal was payable in gold. At any rate, the bonds promised to pay in money, and not in another promise.

Should the public creditors exchange their 5-20s for the new bonds, it would third of the debt, and it would have about sealed the debt to its gold value, rating gold as high as 50 per cent. premium. To those who intend to deal honestly with the people it would seem that the only question in this case would be whether the bondholders would be whether the bondholders would accept the exchange, and abate one-third of their just claim. The reduction of one-third of the vast Democratic debt would seem to be a great achievement, a thing which would greatly increase our ability to bear and ultimately pay off the remainder.

But Mr. Johnson defeated the bill by the pocket veto. And the Democratic organs and speakers assail it, not because it is impracticable, not because the bond-holders. And what do they propose instead? To take, up the 5-20s by issuing greenback legal tender note? It is a promise to pay somether once? The take up the 5-20s by issuing greenback legal tender note? It is a promise to pay somether once? property and capital, and to put it all on the laborer. To relieve capital and other property from taxation to pay the debt, the Democratic plan proposes to plunder the mass of the people to the whole amount. "THE DEMOGRATIC CHIVALRY OF THE NORTH."—It seems to us that the Southern orator who spoke of the "demoiratic chivalry of the North" marching of the re enforcement of the discomitted by the South, was quitive of a special specia to the re enforcement of the discomfitted rebels of the South, was guilty of an No lives lost. Value of boat not known. we understand to be, like the soil of We understand to be, like the soil of Virginia, sacred. As no soil can be "sacred" that has not been fertilized by the sweat and blood of slavery, so there can be no "chivairy" where the kindred principles of slavery do not prevail. The democracy of the north are doubtless entitled to great consideration from their southern masters. In the way of sympathy for the rebellion, a general leaning towards treason and the repudiation of the national faith, they are all that could be tional faith, they are all that could be desired; but not till a man has flogged a woman or sold his half-sister to a negro trader, can he be fairly classed with the chivalry. Nor do we see any way in which the northern democracy, with all their docile subserviency to the south, can become chivalrized—if we may coin a word—unless the Kn-Klux-Klan should organize a band er, Edit r of the Cambridge Chronicle, with the chivalry. Nor do we see any way in which the northern democracy, with all their docile subserviency to the south, can become chivalrized—if we may coin a word—unless the Ku-Klux-Klan should organize a band of that patriotic institution, north of the Potomac. And this, considering certain prejudices still prevailing in this benighted part of the land, might not be altogether a sate experiment. We respectfully suggest to the Rev. Petroleum V. Nasby, Professor, &c., who has charge of the literature as well as the morals of the Democratic party, that he interpose his authority to put a stop to this abuse of language.
